many times they do not.—

"Judge not, that ye be not judged."

"For with what judgment
ye judge, ye shall be judged;
and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured unto you again."

"And why beholdest the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considereth not the beam that is in thine own eye!"

"Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, let me pull out the mote out of thine eye and behold, beam is in thine own
eye!"

"Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast the mote out of thy brother's eye."

DON'T LIKE THEM

I have been compelled on many occasions to listen to the prideful pratings of "self made" men and my reaction in the majority of cases has been that the task had not been more than half completed. As architects and builders I failed to see that they had anything particularly to boast of.

There is another class of people who arouse my suspicions and impel me to keep my hands in my pockets lest the few shekels therein be abstracted while I am under the spell of their hypnotic verbiage—and they are the fellows who are continually megaphoning their honesty and integrity to the world. One would think, to listen to them, or read their writings, that they had a monopoly on that virtue, and all the rest of mankind were crooks. I have watched their careers and daily lives and invariably I find them pulling the rawest kind of stuff—the kind that would make the lowest form of animal life crawl into its hole and hide its face in shame.

ways attaches itself to reform movements and with their political presence delay dawn of a day

MOVE MADE TO SPEED UP WPA PLANS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (UP)— Works Progress Administrator Harry L. Hopkins tonight decentralized his $4,000,000,000 work's drive and placed it upon State Works Administrators almost complete responsibility for quickly putting the idle to work.

Hopkins issued a new order radically shifting once more the emphasis of the vast drive with its objective of employing 3,500,000 now workless citizens by mid-November.

NEW MOVE
He ordered Works Progress headquarters here to approve for each state just twice as many projects as funds are available for.

And he gave the state administrators the task of choosing from this double list those projects which could be started quickest and which would give the most work to the specific persons in each state for which the program was designed.

TO FREE JAM

Hopkins' new order was intended to decentralize the unwieldy drive and free state programs from the present lag in releasing of funds from Washington.

It was indicated the central shock.

GALLANT ARMY
GRACIOUS NAVY
TRADE PRAISES

NEW YORK, Sept. 21. (UPI) — Early season punts and passes, Tom Hamilton, Navy coach, thinks Army is going to be a dark horse this year. "I think the soldiers have it," he says. . . . Lieutenant Gary Davidson, Army coach, claims the same thing about Navy . . . so take your pick.

Girl Dohle of Cornell noted for being one of the "wee-weights" of coaches claims "Cornell's going to have an average team this year" . . . sounds like Dohle is weakening. Because for him that is one of the most optimistic statements in history.

Texas Christian will travel some 7500 miles this season in playing seven games out of 12 away from home. Most distant jaunt in December 7 when the "Horned Toads" play Santa Clara at San Francisco. . . . Frank Thomas, coach of Alabama's Rose Bowl champions, runs into all kinds of trouble when he calls "fire" during practice. Six of his candidates were baptized Janes.

NOTRE DAME GOES IRISH

Of 110 candidates who reported for duty at Notre Dame, 55 of them are Irish and something of 60, I. P. Pez, who claims fullback, Dave Shunkel of Temple is the greatest player he ever coached.

Minnesota is building a $5000 press tax upon Memorial stadium. It will be glass-enclosed and probably will be electrically heated. Six of Princeton's varsity candidates are related to sixes or twos or more years.

Harry Montgomery, brother of Cliff who played a banjo game in the Rose Bowl for Columbia in 1933, is playing with North Carolina university. . . . An L. S. U. statistician figured out that the 56 players on the squad weigh 937 pounds, or four and two-thirds tons. HAS ANOTHER INGRAM

Manhattan college already has received heavy orders for tickets to the L. S. U. game in New York next month. . . . Bill Ingram, son of Captain J. E. Ingram, Navy's third All-American fullback, is being groomed for the Navy running-back position.

For the first time since 1927, when Joe and Herman Lengmoen played together, New York might buy a pair of brothers on its roster. Maurice and Julian Lengmoen, sophomore, are with the Vikings in mid-season at Lake Superior, N. Y.

Stade center, the middy who kicked the field goal which whipped Army last year, is seeking a try-out team for the U. S. S. Idaho where he is an ensign. Colgate has a Harry Rockwell star to rival Notre Dame's pit-shake. . . . His name is Orlis Vadas. He probably will play quarter-back.

Injuries Fatal
To Police Chief

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. (UPI) — The airplane crash in which Will Rogers and Wiley Post perished in Alaska on August 15 probably was caused by the "extreme nose-heaviness" of Post's craft, the Bureau of Air Commerce reported today after an investigation.

As the Bureau made public its report, Chairman Jesse H. Jones of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, a close friend of the Rogers family, arranged to reveal later in the day plans for a memorial to the screen and stage actor.

The Bureau followed closely the lines of a preliminary report issued several weeks ago, in which engine failure and nose-heaviness of the craft were blamed as principal factors in the tragedy.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

OKLAHOMA STILL DRY

Efforts of Oklahoma's new dry law to batter down the state prohibition amendment in the last six months have been a series of failures.

The newest attempt to overthrow prohibition by an initiated constitutional amendment today appeared dead.

The bill, on capital punishment, appeared to have carried the movement.

During the last session of the 39th Legislature, several attempts were made to vote a resolution submitting a state amendment or ordinance to the people of the state.

James, presiding in the above store on San Pablo avenue, was given a short hearing before a large number of Townsends and their friends at Schaw's wake hall Friday evening.

NEW HARDWARE STORE OPENS IN OCTOBER

The Townsend Club of El Cerrito will have a new hardware store, M. L. Morris, president of the club, told the members in the room.

He had at his command regular army divisions and National Guard forces of Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Arkansas and North and South Dakota.

The total membership now stands at 200, and the number of this week and next were expected to have some effect in determining the selection of a site for the speaker of the house outlined in the original plan.

And Mrs. McLean, Mrs. S. C. Wells and Mrs. S. C. Wells were both very interested in obtaining the base, send a movement by presenting them to the members of the town.

Brigadier General Henry W. At each member in the United States week from Morgan Valley, where he was born and raised, and now holds command of the third air division, said a board was already working on selection of site for nine new air bases. He indicated establishment of the northwest base will be given priority by the board.

Hip Joint Disease Requires Immediate Treatment if a Cure Is to Be Gained

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

WE HAVE talked about tuberculosis of the hip and stated that in the early stages splints with extension by the use of weights would relieve the pain, overcome the deformity or contraction of the muscles, and often result in recovery. Within the last week I have talked with a man whom I saw thirty years ago with the beginning of hip joint disease. I told him he was to be treated with splints and weights, but in a week or ten days his mother took them off, saying she felt so sorry for him. I told her she was feeling sorry for herself and not the boy.

The boy has not felt sorry for his mother since then. His leg is drawn up and stiff at the knee, and his face is compelled to use a crutch and a large iron sole for his shoe, and is a serious cripple. About the same time, another boy in the same neighborhood, and a playmate of the first boy, became afflicted the same way. His mother did not feel sorry for herself—she co-operated with the doctor. This boy walks with only a slight limp, and tells me that he plays ball, swims, skates, and does as other boys and has no trouble.

Boys Are Patient

It is remarkable how patient these children are when you put them to bed. They soon realize that their pain is relieved, and they do not want to be crippled.

Another joint that is frequently affected is the knee. The symptoms are of aching and tiredness, particularly at night. The sleep is disturbed, "Night cries" and "night terrors" are common. The knee becomes swollen and often white, and is frequently referred to as "white swelling." Pressure over the joint causes pain.

Absolute quiet, plenty of fresh air, sunshine, good food, and exercise will allow most of them to recover with only a little rest. Rest is allowed to continue, pain, contraction of the muscles, stiffness, and deformity will result.

The ankle, wrists, and elbows are sometimes the seat of the disease and require the same treatment. Perhaps the most common tubercular disease of bones is that of the spine or backbone, commonly called Potts' disease. This is not so much a disease of the joint as it is of the bone itself—usually of the soft, spongy part of the bone in front. It follows an injury or some of the acute diseases, such as typhoid fever.

The tubercle bacillus grows in the soft spongy bone and destroys it. Usually only one or two of the spinal vertebrae are affected at first. As the destruction continues, the body weight crushes this soft bone and they fall together in front causing the back part of the spine to push out and make a bump in the back.

Complain of Tiredness

The first symptoms are paresthesia and a complaint of being tired. There is backache, and the child will hold the back stiff. When he sits down he will rest his arms on a table or chair and support his back that way. To pick anything from the floor he will either kneel down or stoop by bending the knees, but not the back.

If the trouble is in the upper part of the spine, he will hold his neck stiff and straight like a wry neck. The spines over the affected bones are very painful to pressure. Soon the spines become prominent and if the disease is allowed to continue a large hump results.

If one side of the body or the vertebrae is affected more than the other the spine may be twisted to one side as well as to the back. Some times it is only stiffness and weakness and emaciation are pronounced. The pain may be in the back, but is frequently in the abdomen and chest, and as a result the true nature of the danger is not discovered till late.

Plaster casts put on while the patient is suspended aid in overcoming the deformity and in recovery from the trouble. Many operative procedures have been devised for it, but the bone is destroyed so that it cannot be restored.

As a result of the destruction of bone and tissues by the tubercles, abscesses frequently form. These are called "cold abscesses" because they do not contain living bacteria, but are composed of destroyed tissue, dead bacteria, and white corpuscles that have been destroyed in their effort to cure the disease.

Kansas Gets New Roads

A total cost of $84,900,000 for projects in Kansas has been submitted in Washington by the Kansas WPA. Of this amount, $13,000,000 was sponsors' contributions. However, WPA will be able to build and construct only 40 per cent of this total, and with the remaining projects an unpreceded relief load within the next 12 months could be cared for.

The program will cover water conservation, which will include ponds and lakes for the state, and farm-to-market roads with special attention given to rural mail routes.

Guide to Charm

Now Is Time To Check Up On Neck Fat

By JACQUELINE HUNT

YOU may have given your hair and complexion reconditioning treatments and checked up on your waistline as soon as the frivolities of summer were past, but your inventory is not complete until you give your neck a critical examination.

In the lazy days of summer, fat has a way of creeping in and settling down, and somehow you never notice it until one day when you catch an unexpected glimpse of your profile in your mirror.

A neck that is smooth, fair and graceful, with no yellowish remains of a summer tan and no lump at the back or extra chins in front is the first requisite of smoothness and beauty.

Reducing a double chin takes work. Unfortunately, there is no magic preparation that will melt it away. You must faithfully pat, knead and stroke, exercise and consciously practice good posture day after day until your contours are again youthful and lovely.

Fortunately, while you are working on your double chin, you will automatically eliminate the curve and lump at the back of your neck and improve the color and texture of your skin.

The patting and massage breaks down the fat deposits and the aroused circulation carries away the residue. This also makes your skin softer and firmer.

If your skin is dry, use a rather heavy lubricating cream before you begin the patting and massage. If it is oily use a slightly astringent massage cream and follow with a brisk astringent. In any case, you will need ice water or a cold cloth.

Start patting upward from the base of the neck to the tip of the chin with the back of your hand and with one of the fingers that you will find at any beauty salon, drug store, or even the five-and-ten. Pat until the skin is warm and definitely pink. Continue the patting along the big muscles that run from the tops of the shoulders to the tips of the ears and then around to the back where the "dowager's hump" appears.

Now double your hands into loose fists and use the knuckles to literally dig into that double chin and any other fatty accumulations, working from the center outward along the jawbone to the ear. Use both hands to smooth the throat quickly, down at the sides of the neck upward under the chin.

Little declares he changes his methods each fall, fitting them to the kind of material he gets. The happiest moment of his life was when the whistle blew ending the Rose Bowl game in which Columbia, almost laughed at on the coast, pulled a stunning surprise to defeat Stanford 7 to 0.

Now double your hands into loose fists and use the knuckles to literally dig into that double chin and any other fatty accumulations, working from the center outward along the jawbone to the ear. Use both hands to smooth the throat quickly, down at the sides of the neck upward under the chin.

For neck exercises and other corrective measures, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for a copy of the leaflet, "Unfriendly Chins."

Beauty Tips

QUESTION: "I have been using the little oatmeal and almond meal bags that you advise for the dry blemished skin and find that my skin has improved greatly. However, there are a few lines and still a few coarse pores and blackheads, and I wonder if an occasional mask wouldn't hasten the improvement? If so, what kind should I use?" —Mrs. S. C.

Use some of the almond meal mixed to a thin paste with fresh sweet milk for your mask. First cleanse your skin thoroughly, dry and smooth softening cream around your eyes and over your lips and their immediate surrounding area. Now spread the paste evenly over your face, neck and forehead and allow it to dry. Remove with a soft cloth soaked with warm water. If your skin feels very dry afterward apply a small amount of softening cream. You will find that this mask softens and refines the texture of your skin.

French Dressing

Some time when the cupboard is bare of oil and vinegar and you wish to make French dressing, try the combination of cream and lemon juice in the same proportions that you would use oil and vinegar. Season to taste with salt, pepper and a little sugar.

MODERN WOMEN

A Few Words About the Women Who Have Nothing to Do Monday Morning

By MARIAN MAYS MARTIN

NO BETTER illustration of the changes time has effected can be found than the announcement that Monday morning musicals are a popular pastime with women. Monday morning—a time once dedicated to the wash tub, or to the homely task of collecting the family wash for the laundry man, who was to call later. And now it's the Monday morning musical!

"I find I can leave my home on Monday," said the president of such a club to me recently, "and it's about the only day in the week I can.

There are usually left-overs, which eliminates marketing, and what with one thing and another it's the best day of all for us housekeepers."

This idea seems an extraordinary one. Most households are distinctly the worse for wear after a week-end, and most people are, too. They are either let-down, coming out of the gas or nursing a hangover. Houses may be said to reflect some of these reactions. Housewives, which have been thrown open to week-enders who have been dropping in and out during the two days of grace allowed busy persons. Even houses that have not been the center of unusual activity seem to be somewhat disorganized on Monday mornings. Where there are children, Blue Monday becomes bluer still—or would, if the fleeting hours provided leisure for lament.

'Cellist Soothes Nerves

Sitting as I just have done, through a morning musical, during which time a cello soloist calmed the frayed nerves of the assembled women. I had ample time to scrutinize the faces of the listeners. What I saw here was a general look of frustration or dissatisfaction. True, though naturally came that these women with time enough on their hands to attend Monday morning musicals might be happier if they started the week with a more purposeful occupation. I don't seem to find such women any more contented with their lot than those who are occupied with any number of tasks. I even venture to say that many of them are not as happy as the women who are actively engaged in home or office.

All are entitled to time off for relaxation in some form or another, but Monday morning seems a curious time to feel the need of entertainment or to have time for school. Like Larry, many boys and many girls, too, are slow-pokes on school mornings. And like Larry's father, many parents set out to change their children by punishment, criticism or nagging. This is their idea of making them like school especially. School is the hardest one is to rise. Then he moans getting washed, dressed, and tries to make breakfast last into luncheon. Tomorrow he'll be too busy to eat and I won't be able to keep him in the house, even if it should rain."

Dad frowned. "I'll have a talk with Larry. He'll never get anywhere if he behaves like that about school. He is setting a bad example for the younger children. He'll have to change his ways."

Like Larry, many boys and many girls, too, are slow-pokes on school mornings. And like Larry's father, many parents set out to change their children by punishment, criticism or nagging. This is their idea of making them like school.

When a child does not like school, however, he generally has a reason. Find out what it is. Don't shut your ears to his reproaches of the teacher, the history lesson, the arithmetic test, the amount of homework he has to do. Be sympathetic. Draw him out. School problems are real problems. They worry him.

A child hurries to school when he has nothing to fear there. School is easy when it is pleasant. Therefore, gain an inkling of what is bothering the child. Then consult the teacher for ways in which both of you can help him over tight places.

Too Many Activities

I timidly ventured some such thought to one of the members, who looked at me in wide surprise. "What about the only time we have, for there are so many garden club activities, bridge clubs, and civic board meetings that it really seems the best time," she explained.

Houses, it seems, have taken to running themselves. Well, that's not so difficult to understand where there are electric servants, as well as one or more human ones. Still, a woman must miss a good deal by having all of her interests outside of her home—and I feel equally certain that the home misses a great deal, too. It's not difficult to note the difference in a maid-made home and the mistress-made home, and I have not a ghost of a doubt but what the master of the house feels the difference also.

I do not hold to the theory that a woman's place is necessarily in the home, but I do feel it isn't unreasonable for her to devote some time to it. After a week-end the home might need her personal supervision.

What I wonder, do husbands think about Monday morning clubs, no matter what their purpose—husbands who toil early and late to keep roofs over the heads of women who prefer to be anywhere but under them? So much leisure cannot possibly be good for any woman.

Short Cuts

Dried parsley, bay leaf, onion, celery and meat extracts are worth while experimenting with in soups. A little dill gives vegetable soup quite a distinctive flavor.

For knitters there is a knitting cage that holds the ball of wool. It is a neat flexible affair that holds any size ball and gets accommodatingly smaller as you use up your yarn. You can carry it on your wrist.

There is no cause for alarm when new rugs shed during the cleaning process. The fuzz that collects are loose ends that fall into the nap when the pile was cut. When you have succeeded in cleaning up all the loose ends there will be no more shedding.

One-Dish Meal Affords Time for Other Tasks

By JUDITH WILSON

THIS is a busy season for home-makers! There are new draperies to put up, the children's school wardrobe to be planned, housecleaning to be done, the house cheery and bright, for the holidays are upon us. There is little time to be spent in the kitchen, yet the family's appetites are more vigorous than ever, now that cold weather has set in.

What is the solution? It is simple. Just plan your dinners around one rich, perfectly-seasoned generous dish. The one-dish meal is economical as well, but its greatest virtue is the ease of preparation and serving.

Wool dresses are everywhere, and among them nothing is really smarter than jersey, if it is made in pleated movements. Usually bright metal at belt or collar is introduced, and belts, as you have been repeatedly told, are not only very smart, but must contrast with the dress or coat with which they are worn.

While black leads are a mile, starting combinations of colors are fashionable this year, if they are chosen with a sure, artistic eye. Even red with green is "being done" this fall, but there is much skill put into getting just the right shades to be at once harmonious and avoid a "Christmas-y" look.

One of the red-green combinations seen recently, which proved very attractive, was shown in an important fashion show—a yellowish-green metal from simple tailored style topped by a red belt. Some are combining red and green in jacquard materials, such as brocades with an antique or Far Eastern look. A reversible matelasse is a woven pattern of dots, showing red dots on green ground on one side and reverse colorings on the other side is one interpretation. In this the shades are deliberately bright opposites.

A word should be said in praise of the new medium green and light red, called "English Gallois"—combination for the ladies. The latter in such amusing details as the slide fastener outlined in red.

Red fox on copper color, robin's egg blue with Persian purple with nutria, bright blue and clear red in mixtures, are examples of the interest in color contrast.

Among the sauer color schemes must be mentioned brown with black, or smarter still, black trimmed with brown.

Oysters and Macaroni

Butter a baking dish with spruce bottoms with dry bread crumbs. You will need 2 cups oysters (1 pint), 2 cups cooked macaroni and 1/2 cup grated cheese. Alternate layers of oysters and cooked macaroni and sprinkle each layer with pepper, salt, paprika and cheese and dot liberally with butter. Have a top layer of oysters and bread crumbs. Add 1/2 cup hot light cream, carefully from the side of the dish. Bake in a hot oven until the crumbs are crisply browned and the oysters curled—about 20 minutes.

Gauncampole Salad

Peel and remove the seeds from 3 ripe avocados (small) and chop together with 1 sweet red pepper, 2 young onions, 1 large ripe tomato and 1 small green chilli from which the seeds and thin outer

Not only are skirts shorter and fuller this year, but daytime hats show similar tendencies. This striking winter model of black felt slants jauntily over the right eye. Worn by Leola Turner, singer.

Modes and Manners

QUESTION: "Please explain the etiquette of train tipping to me. I have never taken a long train trip and am about to take one that will last two days.—Inez G."

ANSWER: According to the custom, the porter who carries your bags and umbrella to your place of train, is entitled to no more than a quarter. In the dining car, the waiter should receive at least ten per cent of the bill. The porter who makes up the berth and performs other services is entitled to a dollar tip.

Ethiopians To Mobilize For Battle

that the powers must back down and grant Mussolini's complete demands, or apply international penalties which in Mussolini's own words, mean war.

Optimists saw some faint hope in the Cabinet communiqué's reference to "minimum demands," arguing that it implied a willingness to call off the war if Mussolini gets everything he wants.

LEAGUE CRISIS

Realists among foreign observers, however, pointed out that submission by Britain, France and other nations would mean the destruction of the League and set a precedent which the powers could not conceivably afford to chance.

Leading diplomats said the situation was "most black" and there was no hope of an accord, since the prestige of two nations, Britain and France, is deeply involved.

CABINET REPORT

The Cabinet, after a lengthy meeting, issued a communiqué which was brief and to the point. It said:

"Premier Mussolini, in an ample report lasting one hour covered the military and political situation which has arisen in recent days."

Thereafter, he read and expanded the report of Salvador de Madariaga of Spain—head of the League Council's commission of five on conciliation.

TURNS DOWN PROPOSALS

The Cabinet then took the following decision:

"The Cabinet took note of the proposals of the committee of five and considered them carefully. The Cabinet, although appreciating the attempt of the committee of five, came to the conclusion that the proposals are unacceptable, inasmuch as they do not offer a minimum basis towards a conclusive materialization which finally and definitely takes into account Italy's vital rights and interests."

The sessions ended at 1 P.M. The Cabinet will meet again on Tuesday to examine the development of the political situation and finish its examination of questions of an administrative character contained in its agenda."

Diplomatic quarters said that Mussolini's rejection of the League's proposal would make it difficult to prevent discussion of sanctions (penalties) at Geneva. It universally was considered that such discussion would cause Italy's immediate withdrawal from the League. Italy's action, however, leaves the League facing two alternatives:

1. Adoption of sanctions, with the probability of war.

2. Submission to Italy's expansionist program, in the hope that Mussolini would halt in Ethiopia and not tread farther on the toes of Britain, whose interests have already been affected by Italy's African colonization.

Rush Navy Building

OLD AGE and obsolescence among United States naval vessels hasten new ship construction in the Navy's drive toward a full fleet strength fleet. All but six of 211 destroyers are reported over age. Above are two new ones, the Conyngham and Case, launched recently at Charlestown Navy Yard, Boston, expected to be in service next year.

to make any such offer, because it would destroy the framework of the League itself, which is bound to protect the sovereignty of all members.

Great Britain and France likewise could hardly make the offer without repudiating their League pledges. As for the League Council, even the report of its own committee of five, which Mussolini rejected, probably would be considered as making too great concessions to Italy.

COMPLETE DEADLOCK

Russia, Turkey and possibly Romania and others would oppose the committee's concessions as excessive.

The deadlock was complete. "It is now up to the powers to make a better offer," the Italian spokesman said.

"We believe the proposals of the committee of five are the fairest possible," said the League spokesman.

The consensus among members of the committee of five was that it is now up to Mussolini to make counter-proposals. He was not expected to do so.

ITALY BLAMED

Responsibility for what happens then would be placed on Italy.

The committee of five will meet Monday and prepare its report for the council. The council then meets on Monday and will have to act on the report if submitted.

Ethiopia is expected to accept the report, at least in principle. If the council adopts the report selected by Italy then Italy becomes an international outlaw under League rules if it attacks Ethiopia. All members of the League would be obliged under the covenant to aid Ethiopia.

SOVIET AIRMEN CLAIM RECORD FOR BALLOONS

MOSCOW, Sept. 21—UP—A world distance record for balloon flight was claimed today for Soviet Pilots B. A. Romanov and A. I. Babikin. They flew from Zvenigorod, near Moscow, to a point in the southern Kazakstan Desert, a distance of 1428 miles.

The flight was completed September 5, but word of it has just reached Moscow owing to absence of quick communication facilities between the capital and the balloons' landing place.

The distance flown exceeds by 372 miles that of the Polish balloon which recently won the James Gordon Bennett international balloon race from Warsaw.

against evils in the daytime the chances are bright than under the cover of darkness, which "men do because their deeds are evil." They are attempting to hold up or blackmail the objects of their attack. And if tribute is not forthcoming the tributes become more terrible and good men and women are called upon in strident tones to rally against the forces of evil in the community.

But if the price is paid the blocks cease with meaningful sadness, and there is significant silence until such time as the exchequer needs replenishment; then the extraction process begins again in all its original fury.

COMMUNITY DISEASE

There is scarcely a community but has one or more of these bloodsuckers, who under cover of their vaunted honesty are working this despicable racket. We have campaigns to rid communities of mosquitoes and other insects, but sit supinely by and let a greater menace, which should be exterminated continue to exist.

quickly would shove through whole batches of projects. Hopkins will allow the state directors to sift out those most practical from the standpoint of the two great objectives—a quick start and employment of the maximum number of idle.

Hopkins told state administrators to choose from the large list of proposed projects ones which "meet the need for employment in each community."

He impressed upon the administrators that they must be certain before authorizing commencement of a project that sufficient eligible labor would be available to enable completion either of the whole project or of a unit.

RULING MADE

He advised them to hold in reserve "a large reservoir of projects composed of numerous units upon which work can be started and stopped, as the labor supply fluctuates, without losing any of the value of the completed work."

He said that money allotted for one project could be used in completing another approved project in the same classification of the act within the same state.
